Desert, with its great amount of dampness and sun, a garden was developed that has shown itself worthy of much approval, more than could have been anticipated in its first summer. The photographs, from which the illustrations were made, were taken in the second summer and will serve to show how much has been accomplished. To plan an interesting setting for an existing house, which had no charm of its own save the fact that it was placed upon the top of the highest point of ground at Bar Harbor with an unsurpassed view of sea and mountains, but with no trees in the immediate vicinity of the house; this was the problem. It should be pointed out, as a detail of peculiar interest, that the trees shown near the house in the plan were transplanted from the nearby hills which are heavily wooded with a rich growth of graceful, hardy pines and spruces. The transportation of some of them seemed to our urban sense worthy of photographs, although the Maine lumbermen who moved these trees considered it only one more of the whims of the city people. Those which are...
