

Georgetown Mysteries and Legends (Paperback)

By Elizabeth Huntsinger Wolf

John F Blair Publisher, United States, 2007. Paperback.

Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book. Elizabeth Huntsinger Wolf, the author of two popular Low Country ghost-story collections, returns with a third volume of 18 stories. In this collection, Wolf moves beyond local haunts and tells about eerie events and unsolved mysteries from the area. Included are stories about a treasure buried along the Sampit River during the Civil War; the pirate Drunken Jack; Tom Yawkey and his beloved Cat Island; the mysterious fire that destroyed Kensington Park; the Pawleys Island Pavilion; George Trenholm and the lost money from the Confederate treasury; and the Sea View Inn on Pawleys Island. A tired, hungry slave woman, upset at being denied her supper one night, places a curse on her plantation that lasts a hundred years. At Magnolia Beach, a mermaid trapped in a bathing house gazes fervently at her storm ball and calls forth a hurricane that sets her free--and kills most members of the family that held her captive. In 1953, the lovely Fiddler s Green washes up high and dry on the southern end of Pawleys Island. The two brothers who buy her for salvage leave the scene for...
